Wage and Hour Workplace Issues Enforced by WHD:

How to File a Complaint

WAGE AND HOUR DIVISION
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division (WHD) is responsible for administering and enforcing some of the nation's most important worker protection laws. WHD is committed to ensuring that workers in this country are paid properly and for all the hours they work, regardless of immigration status.

If you have questions or concerns, you can contact us at 1-866-487-9243 or visit www.dol.gov/whd, where you will be directed to the nearest WHD office for assistance. There are more than 200 WHD offices throughout the country with trained professionals to help you. The information below will be useful to file a complaint with WHD:

- Your name
- Your address and phone number (how you can be contacted)
- Name of the company where you work(ed)
- Location of the company (this may be different from where you worked)
- Phone number of the company
- Manager's or owner's name (the person we should ask to speak to)
- Type of work you did
- How and when you were paid (for example, by check every Friday)

Any additional information that you can provide, such as copies of pay stubs, personal records of hours worked, or details about your employer's pay practices, may also be helpful.

All services are free and confidential, whether you are documented or not. Please remember that your employer cannot terminate you or in any other manner discriminate against you for filing a complaint with WHD.

If WHD is not able to assist you, we will make every effort to refer you to the appropriate agency or organization.
