

Boosting Worker Engagement for a Safer Workplace

1-DAY IN PERSON CLASS

November 1, 2024 or May 16, 2025

8:00am–4:00pm (1 hour lunch break)

Location

4225 Roosevelt Way NE
Seattle, WA 98402

Did you know that an engaged workforce is the key to a safer workplace? Research shows that when employees are more engaged, workplace incidents and injuries significantly decrease.

Creating a culture of communication, proactive behavior, collective problem-solving, and regulatory compliance is the foundation for worker well-being and safety. When employees feel they belong and their voices are heard, job satisfaction soars, and participation in maintaining a safe work environment increases. The research emphasizes the integration of safety management practices and active worker participation in safety programs, demonstrating that when workers are involved in decision-making and safety initiatives, incident rates that cause harm decline significantly.

Imagine a workplace where everyone is actively involved, looking out for each other, and committed to safety. That's the power of worker engagement. Let's build a safer and productive workplace together! This course will provide best practices and new effective methods to increase worker engagement across many industries.

Meet the Instructor

Rocco Meraglia, B.Ad, Dip. OHS, CRSP, Cashman Global (HSE & Security) Management LLC
Rocco Meraglia has over 35 years of experience in health, safety, and emergency services implementation on major global projects. Rocco specializes in root cause analysis, risk management development, and team building workshops in courageous self-leadership, normalization of deviance, incident and systems evaluations, and project management improvements. He is the Principle of MEM HSE Services Consulting, and has conducted over 500 high potential root cause analysis incident investigations for clients globally.

Registration

Register online at oshce.uw.edu or by calling the Northwest Center

Information

Phone: 206-543-1069 or 800-326-7568
E-mail: ce@uw.edu
Web: <https://oshce.uw.edu>

Accreditation

7.0 contact hours/0.7 CEUs.

The University of Washington is committed to providing access and accommodation in its services, programs, and activities. To make a request connected to a disability or health condition, contact OSHCE @ ce@uw.edu or 800-326-7568 three weeks prior to the event.